Olsson's Keg 10 is a breakthrough in supplementing rumen biology. With pressure on the grower to reduce the use of antibiotics such as Monensin in ruminants, Olsson's technical team have developed a product that is designed to encourage rumen biological growth, feeding the bacterial flora that break down feed that is converted into meat. Keg 10 supports digestive efficiency.

Keg 10 allows the animal to achieve maximum natural feed conversion by maximising rumen efficiency through several actions. Improving microbial flora with the addition of prebiotics and probiotics, enzymes, yeast and complex carbohydrates allows the animal's rumen to develop and function at maximum efficiency.

Keg 10 is ideal for weaners, assisting the animal to develop a fully functioning rumen. Finisher's will respond well to Keg 10 as do growers.
